If you have sung the work before, or read music reasonably well, you will be very welcome to join us. To reserve your place, or if you would like to know more, please email coordinator@halifaxchoralsociety.co.uk.

The day starts at 10.30am with a workshop led by Philip Collin followed by afternoon rehearsals with the orchestra and soloists. The cost for singing participants is £15 (includes light refreshments).

The public performance begins at 6.30pm.
Tickets available on the door, priced at £10 (free for under-16s).
